Guidance

On the Erection of Residential Letting Boards

September 2025

Nottingham
City Council

What is this Guidance?

The City Council is reissuing this guidance note for Landlords wishing to display letting boards on their residential properties in the Direction Area. It was originally drawn up in consultation with key stakeholders to produce a set of criteria. The aim of the criteria is to control the visual impact of letting boards, whilst allowing landlords to legitimately advertise their properties. The only update to the previous guidance is providing updated maps.

Why is there Guidance?

The Council originally tried a Voluntary Code on restricting letting boards in 2009 but this did little to resolve the visual appearance of streets in the area. Instead the Council requested intervention from the Department for Levelling Up, Housing and Communities (formerly CLG) in July 2011 to regulate the display of residential letting boards in specific Nottingham wards due to an excessive number of such boards negatively impacting the visual appeal of neighborhoods, potentially deterring potential buyers and renters, and serving as an advertisement for burglars.

Initially granted in September 2012 and subsequently renewed in January 2018 for five years, this direction removed the automatic right to display letting boards without explicit consent in the designated area.

The Council has received approval to introduce restrictions over the same area, except for a minor addition.¹

¹ Apart from a small addition for the residential development on the former Sandfield Centre which was previously excluded.

What are the Criteria?

The criteria are that:

- ① The use of letting boards will be permitted from January 1st to September 30th (inclusive) and prohibited from October 1st to December 31st (inclusive).
- ② Only one board per building will be permitted.
- ③ The board shall be mounted flush to the wall above the front door, or if that is not possible, it shall be mounted flush to the wall on the street frontage elevation. In either instance, no part of the board shall be higher than first floor windowsill level.
- ④ Each board shall have a white background and will conform to the following layout: 34cm x 48cm or 48cm x 34cm.
- ⑤ One company logo per board will be permitted providing that the logo does not exceed one third of the overall size of the advertising board. Logos and text will be permitted in black and any one colour provided it is a single uniform colour and that fluorescent colours are not used. Where the property displaying the sign is accredited, the appropriate recognised accreditation scheme logo could also be incorporated.
- ⑥ Boards marked by "Let By", "Let", "More wanted" or similar wording are to be prohibited.
- ⑦ One board shall be permitted per landlord/agent per street. However, if a landlord/agent wishes to advertise properties having different numbers of bedrooms, one board shall be permitted for each property with a different number of bedrooms, up to a maximum of three per street, as long as the number of bedrooms is specified on the board.
- ⑧ Letting boards shall be removed not later than 14 days after the granting of a tenancy for the room, house or flat in question. Letting boards shall not be displayed other than in the calendar year for which the tenancy is available.

Correct use of the criteria: Guidance notes

Letting Board Areas - Overview Map

All areas subject to Letting Boards Direction

What does this mean?

Letting boards usually benefit from deemed consent i.e. they do not require permission. Within the Direction Area however, letting boards will be subject to strict control by the City Council.

Only those boards which comply with this guidance are likely to be considered acceptable.

Do I need to apply?

Strictly speaking, you will need to apply for consent to display any letting board. However, given the size of the area and in the interests of speed, the Council will not request applications for those boards which comply with the criteria in this guidance. However, where applications are submitted, these will be dealt with as swiftly as possible.

What if I don't apply?

Provided that the letting board erected complies with the guidance criteria in this guidance note, no action will be taken. However, landlords who erect boards which do not comply with the criteria will be subject to enforcement action, unless an application has been submitted to us and approved as an exceptional circumstance.

What enforcement action can be taken?

The Council's Enforcement Team will carry out surveys of the Direction Area and pursuing prosecutions where appropriate. The Council can immediately bring a prosecution in the Magistrates Court. The maximum fine on conviction of an offence is presently £2,500, with an additional daily fine of one-tenth of the maximum penalty on conviction of a continuing offence. The Council will also respond to quickly remove and destroy letting boards that do not comply with the criteria. Reasonable costs incurred in the removal may also be recovered.

Guidance Notes

Criterion 1: Permitted and prohibited periods

The Council is clear that the prohibited period will not be changed and anticipates that letting agents and landlords will be able to continue advertising their properties through other means.

Criterion 2: One board per building

A 'traditional' style house converted into flats will still only be able to have one board at any one time. The same applies to blocks of flats where it may be appropriate to have one board by the main entrance indicating "Flats to let" with a main contact. The Council would expect letting agents and landlords to reach consensus as to the most appropriate solution and make an application if considered necessary.

Criterion 3: Position and mounting

Boards higher than first floor windowsill level will not be permitted as these would give an unfair advertising advantage and be incompatible with the Council's general design criteria relating to advertisements. It may be possible to mount a board on the fabric of a first floor flat below the windowsill level, but note that criterion 2 will still apply. No boards will be permitted on blank or secondary elevations.

Boards will not be permitted on front boundary walls or other similar features. Within Conservation Areas and on Listed Buildings, care should be taken to avoid damaging brickwork/ stonework / rendered finishes and/or mortar. Many historic buildings in the area are built using soft stone, which is easily eroded and damaged. Care should also be taken to avoid damaging any decorative features.

Criterion 4: Size and background colour

This is a size already favoured by a number of landlords / letting agents and used successfully in other local authority areas. Agents will be able to ensure that their board design clearly shows the important information.

Criterion 5: Logo and colour

The Council will be happy to help with informal discussions regarding the suitability of boards.

Criterion 6: “Let by” boards

Such boards will not be permitted

Criterion 7: One board per landlord / agent per street

On most streets, only one board is permitted per landlord / agent, per street. However, if the board specifies the numbers of bedrooms in the property advertised, one board shall be permitted for each property with a different number of bedrooms up to a maximum of three per street (e.g. you could have boards advertising a three bed, four bed and five bed property, but no more). The number of bedrooms must be stated on the actual board itself. Only on the specified longer roads of Derby Road and Ilkeston Road, a landlord/agent will be permitted to have one board in each designated area, up to a maximum of six along the entire road. The areas are as designated in the Gazetteer which forms part of this guidance.

Criterion 8: Removal of boards after tenancy granted

This mirrors the condition in the Town and Country Planning (Control of Advertisements) (England) Regulations 2007 (schedule 3A) for boards that would normally benefit from deemed consent. Regular inspections will be undertaken and telephone and other complaints will be followed up. Where suspicion arises that this criterion has not been complied with the Council may serve a section 16 Notice under the Local Government (Miscellaneous Provisions) Act 1976.

Letting boards shall not be displayed other than in the calendar year for which the tenancy is available. This is to prevent landlords or letting agents advertising student lets for a subsequent academic year.

Applications

The criteria and the above guidance notes are designed to inform landlords and letting agents about what type of boards are likely to be acceptable. However, applications may be submitted where a board would not strictly accord with the criteria, perhaps in instances of exceptional special circumstance. Such applications will be dealt with on their own merit and expedited.

Gazetteer of Streets within the Direction Area

The lists of streets on the following pages are those which are within the Direction Area, where compliance with this guidance is compulsory. The lists of streets is correct at the time of printing, but if in doubt, please use in conjunction with the Direction Area map or seek further advice from the contacts below.
